1. Whose works, O Lord, like Thine can be, Who 'neath Thy throne of grace,
2. There are the sin - less spir - its bound Up in the bond of life,
3. Sweet peace and calm their spir - its bless, Who reach that heav'n - ly home,
4. This is the rest for - ev - er sure, This is the her - it - age,
5. This is the land the spir - it knows; That ev - er - last - ing - ly

For those pure souls from earth set free, Hast made a dwell - ing - place!
The wea - ry there new strength have found, The weak have rest from strife.
And nev - er end - ing pleas - ant - ness— Such is the world to come.
Whose good - ness and whose bliss en - dure Un - changed from age to age.
With milk and hon - ey o - ver - flows— And such its fruit shall be.
