The Easter Lilies

KIMPTON 10s.11s, with Refrain

Words: Mrs. S. K. Bourne, 1892
Music: E. P. Tate

1. The Easter lilies shed their rich perfume,
And greet the morning of the Resurrection;
So let our spirits sweetly bud and bloom,
And softly sing His glory;

2. Let happy children hail their risen Lord,
And infant voices let every Christian spread the heavenly word,
And merge notes of gladness; And greet once more the happy Easter time,
And bid each mourning heart dispel its sadness.

3. Today, ye bells, ring out a joyful chime,
With cheerful tones andAdor-a-tion;
May life divine in every soul be born, and Eastertide! We sing the praise of Him who died! We hail the day when

4. O Lord of Life! on this bright Easter morn,
Accept the tribute yield the offering of a pure affection.
We ring the bells of
Refrain In time

Words: Mrs. S. K. Bourne, 1892
Music: E. P. Tate

PDHymns.com
He a-rose, Triumphant over all His foes. Amen.