The Easter Lilies
KIMPTON 10s.11s, with Refrain

With motion

1. The Easter lilies shed their rich perfume, And greet the morning of the Resurrection; So let our spirits sweetly bud and bloom, And yield the offering of a pure affection. We ring the bells of

2. Let happy children hail their risen Lord, And infant voices softly sing His glory; Let every Christian spread the heavenly word, And tell again the blessed Easter story! We bid each mourning heart dispel its sadness.

3. Today, ye bells, ring out a joyful chime, With cheerful tones and of our adoration; May life divine in every soul be born, And rise from sin and death to full salvation.

4. O Lord of Life! on this bright Easter morn, Accept the tribute Eastertide! We sing the praise of Him who died! We hail the day when

Words: Mrs. S. K. Bourne, 1892
Music: E. P. Tate

PDHymns.com
The Easter Lilies

He a rose, Triumphant over all His foes. Amen.