The Lord Doth In His Kingdom Come

STRAUSS L. M.

Words: Victor von Strauss
Music: Caryl Florio

1. The Lord doth in His kingdom come; Exalt and magnify His name:
   Throw open heart and gate to Him, And bring Him in with loud acclaim.
   Will form us in His image fair, Abounding in all good and love.
   Cast out His every enemy, Thy heart for His abode prepare.

2. He comes to His inheritance, Then praise and bless His royal name,
   And open now your heart to Him, And bring Him in with loud acclaim.
   Will form us in His image fair, Abounding in all good and love.
   Cast out His every enemy, Thy heart for His abode prepare.

3. He brings the treasures of His grace, He will our guilt and fear remove,
   And open now your heart to Him, And bring Him in with loud acclaim.
   Will form us in His image fair, Abounding in all good and love.
   Cast out His every enemy, Thy heart for His abode prepare.

4. Admit Him in thy soul and heart, That He may reign unriveled there;
   And open now your heart to Him, And bring Him in with loud acclaim.
   Will form us in His image fair, Abounding in all good and love.
   Cast out His every enemy, Thy heart for His abode prepare.
