The Music Of Heaven
"I heard a great voice of much people in heaven." – Rev. 19:1

Words: Rev. E. A. Hoffman
Music: J. H. Hall

1. The music of heaven is sweeter in measure And purer in every strain, Than the music of earth, tho' it fills us with pleasure, As it thrillingly rolls over valley and plain.

2. The music of heaven is grander in rhyming Than any that mortal e'er toned, And the mansions of glory for ever are chiming With the songs that arise to the Savior enthroned.

3. The music of heaven, no mortal can sing it, Save he who attunes his poor soul, At the throne of the Father, to swell and to ring it, With the angels to make it thru paradise roll.

Chorus
Obligato Solo

Oh, music of heaven! So rich and so sweet; Oh,
The Music Of Heaven

rich and so sweet; Oh, joy music of heaven! so rich and so sweet! Oh, joy that it brings us! so brings us! so full and complete.

full and complete; Oh, joy that it brings us! so full and complete.
